BRYAN ASSAILS COX AND H. S. CUMMINGS

Calls Choice of Democratic Convention Chairman a 'Tragedy' for the Party.

COX CANDIDACY A DISGRACE

His Nomination Would Be an Insult by the Liquor Forces, Nebraskan Asserts.

Special to The New York Times. LINCOLN, Neb., May 13.—William Jennings Bryan turned his political batteries tonight on Homer S. Cummings, Chairman of the Democratic National Committee, and Governor Cox of Ohio. In a statement given out here he says: "The selection of Chairman Cummings to sound the keynote of the Democratic National Convention is worse than a comedy. It is a tragedy. It is a melancholy beginning if the Democrats have any intention of making a campaign this year. If the Democratic Party is to be wrapped in a 'wet' shroud, locked up in a Wall Street safe and buried at sea, Cummings is just the person to officiate, but his selection is a serious handicap if the party proposes to appeal to the progressive sentiment of the country. Mr. Bryan calls the Cox candidacy a disgrace. He says: "The fact that the Democrats of two dry States, Ohio and Kentucky, have instructed for Governor Cox makes it proper to consider his position on the liquor question. It is becoming every day more and more apparent that he is the man about whose standard the wet forces will gather. "Governor Edwards is a joke. A drunkard in the last stages of delirium tremens would have sense enough to know that Edwards has no chance of nomination. Senator Hitchcock did not have any chance even before the Nebraska primary, hence he had nothing to lose. Governor Cox is their man and he has fairly won the dishonor that he seeks. "After disgracing his State he applies to a position in which he could disgrace a nation. For years the men engaged in the liquor business have been the real anarchists of the country, far more dangerous than the professional anarchists. Governor Cox has become their candidate. "His nomination would make the Democratic Party the leader of the lawless element of the country and his election, if such a thing were possible, would turn the White House over to those who defy the Government and hold law in contempt. "There is no likelihood of his nomination and no chance of his election if nominated, but why should any Democrat be willing to support a man whose nomination would insult the conscience of the nation? For the triumph of prohibition is a triumph of the nation's conscience."

OBITUARY

Eric O. Sayre was born in Dakota county, Neb., July 23, 1892. When one year old he moved with his parents to Waterbury, Neb., where he lived until he enlisted in the army. Prior to his enlistment he was employed in the Pierce Bros. garage at Waterbury. He enlisted in Aero Squadron No. 106, at Sioux City, Iowa, August 12, 1914. Soon after embarking for France he contracted pneumonia and died on ship board one day before reaching England. He was buried in Liverpool, England, and recently his remains were removed from there by the United States government and sent home for final interment, being escorted from Omaha by Private Rose of the regular army. Funeral services were held from the M. E. church in Waterbury on September 7, 1920, at 10 o'clock A. M., under the auspices of the Eric Sayre Post, American Legion, of Waterbury, Neb. A large number of ex-service men honored his memory by attending in a body, attired in uniform. The sermon was by the Rev. Geo. J. McClellan, pastor of the Elk Valley Friends' church, and was an imposing tribute to the loyalty and patriotism of not only Eric Sayre, but of his comrades as well. Many beautiful floral tributes were in evidence and a great concourse of people attended. He leaves to mourn his untimely death, his father, David O. Sayre, one sister, Mrs. Eunice Higgins, and numerous other relatives and friends. Officers under whom he served have testified as follows to the high esteem in which he was held by his comrades. 106th Aero Service Squadron, Southampton, England, December 28th, 1917. To David O. Sayre, Waterbury, Neb. It is the painful but necessary duty of the Commander of this squadron to advise you that your son, Eric O. Sayre, a late member of this squadron, died on ship board enroute to England. The very best medical assistance and care was given him during his illness. He died on December 23rd, 1917, at 9 A. M. Your son was a model soldier, efficient, well liked and greatly missed by every member of the organization. Every military courtesy was shown him and will be extended his remains until they reach their final resting place. LYMAN A. BAIRD, 1st Lieut. A. S. C. U. S. R. Headquarters Flight 800th (106th) Repair Squadron, U. S. P. O. No. 705, A. E. F. March 12th, 1918. To David O. Sayre, Waterbury, Neb. Eric O. Sayre was a splendid soldier and every enlisted man and officer in the squadron was grieved at his death. His name shall go down in the records of our organization as the first member of the 106th Aero Squadron to give his life for his country. ROBERT E. BOWERS, 1st Lieut. A. S. C. U. S. R. Many Visit College of Agriculture. Many men, women and children visited the University Farm at Lincoln during State Fair week. The work of the State College of Agriculture in the interest of better agriculture is attracting wide attention. Visitors showed much interest in tractor testing, the teaching of cooking, sewing, stock judging, dairying, poultry raising and the various other phases of agriculture and stock raising. They were shown the laboratories where girls learn more about home-making, where boys are taught elementary carpentering and blacksmithing, stock judging, better milk-making, poultry handling, fruit and vegetable raising, etc. Every model tractor must stand an official test of the College of Agriculture before it is given permanent permit to be sold in the state. Working in co-operation with county farm bureaus and other farmers' organizations, the College is promoting the growing of improved grains, purebred livestock, and better marketing methods. Pamphlets dealing with every phase of agriculture, stock raising and household work are distributed free by the College.

REAL ROOSEVELT ABHORRED WILSON AND HIS WORKS

Yet Democratic Candidate for Vice Presidency Slanders Great Leader's Memory.

MAKING FUTILE ATTEMPT TO WIN ON OLD ISSUES

Fifth Cousin Removed Roosevelt Not Able to Convince Followers of T. R. by Specious Arguments.

By SCOTT C. BONE.

Touring the country as a candidate for Vice President, Franklin D. Roosevelt is vainly endeavoring to invoke the progressive spirit of 1912 in support of Wilsonism and the election of the Democratic ticket in November. What would the real Roosevelt—Theodore Roosevelt—the immortal T. R.—say to his followers were he alive today?

Gone, he left burning words which tell all too plainly what his attitude would be at this time.

He abhorred Wilsonism, just as he abhorred Danielism, with both of which Franklin D. Roosevelt has been identified as an under Secretary.

Condemned Wilsonism.

Theodore Roosevelt condemned Wilsonism and the whole Wilson administration in unsparring terms. Read anew what he said at Cooper Union on November 3, 1916:

"I have been assailed because I have criticized Mr. Wilson. I have not said one thing of him that was not absolutely accurate and truthful.

"I have not said one thing of him which I did not deem it necessary to say because of the vital interests of this republic.

"I have criticized him because I believe he has dragged in the dust what was most sacred in our past and has jeopardized the most vital hopes of our future. . . .

"I criticize him now because he has adroitly and cleverly and with sinister ability appealed to all that is weakest and most unworthy in the American character; and also because he has adroitly and cleverly and with sinister ability sought to mislead many men and women who are neither weak nor unworthy, but who have been misled by a shadow dance of words.

"He has made our statesmanship a thing of empty elocution.

"He has covered his fear of standing for the right behind a veil of rhetorical phrases.

"He has wrapped the true heart of the nation in a spangled shroud of rhetoric.

"He has kept the eyes of the people dazzled so that they know not what is real and what is false. So that they turn, bewildered, unable to discern the difference between the glitter that veneers evil and the stark realities of courage and honesty, of truth and strength.

"In the face of the world he has covered this nation's face with shame as with a garment."

So much for Theodore Roosevelt's opinion of Wilson and Wilsonism in support of which Franklin D. Roosevelt, life-long Democrat, would now invoke the progressive spirit of 1912!

Abhorred Danielism.

And what did Theodore Roosevelt think of Daniels' administration of the Navy Department of which the Democrat, Franklin D. Roosevelt, has been a more or less conspicuous factor and part?

In a speech on "Americanism and National Defense" at Chicago, October 26, 1916, Theodore Roosevelt said: "More harm has been done to the navy by the politicians in power during the last three years than in the preceding thirty. Whatever good has been accomplished in the navy during the last three years has been done by naval officers, who, in most cases, have been snubbed and punished for their proposals as long as it was safe to do so; whereas Mr. Daniels now turns and claims credit for what was thus forced upon him. . . .

"In short, throughout President Wilson's term there has been neglect or positive maladministration in connection with departmental organization in pay yards, aeronautics, mines and torpedoes, and in all other matters affecting the efficiency of the fleet and the enthusiasm of its officers and men. . . . The activity and energy of the Navy Department under President Wilson has been primarily concentrated upon schemes aimed at vote-getting or advertising."

This, then, is what Theodore Roosevelt thought of the administration of the Department from which Franklin D. Roosevelt, Democrat and exponent of Wilsonism, vainly would reach the Vice Presidency and have progressives of 1912, followers of the real Roosevelt, in power and make Wilsonism endure!

It is inconceivable that any true follower of Theodore Roosevelt will hearken to such a preposterous appeal.
